

Revelatory Vision

The Mayan Prophecy for 2012

The Fate of Earth and it's inhabitants

Please pass on the Mayan Prayer if you are so moved.

I was given this vision moments after I closed my eyes in meditation. I was drawn into the void of the cosmic oval. Though my eyes had not adjusted, I felt sand underfoot. I realized I was riding on a camel. As I looked down I could see my skirt, recognizing I was female. I was neither young nor old but youthful and ancient at the same time. There were three others, one of whom appeared to be a guide.

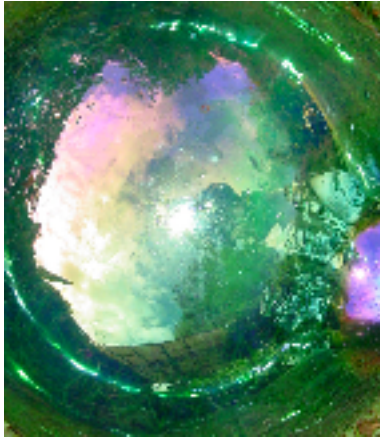

We stopped at an oasis to refresh ourselves. Only the guide and I went forth. We began our journey on camel across the great sands of time. We were traveling to a mysterious destination. I knew intuitively it was a source of energy and wisdom. The guide led us to a cave with a huge boulder in front of it. He used his 3rd eye to move the boulder. Only I walked within. Jesus was there before me. I had the impression this was after the crucifixion. He spoke my name and welcomed me. I had come to ask of the fate of the earth and its people with regards to the Mayan 2012 prophecies. He glowed with light from deep within his being. His eyes were filled with light and love as he looked into me. But this was a love beyond, this was the love of God, once felt and never forgotten.

The communication was telepathic. He held his hands out before me. In his right hand he held the earth in all its glorious splendor. In his left hand he held a scorched red earth devoid of life-force energy. It was a stark vision.

Suddenly out of the energies of the earth came a Mayan seer, a prophetess. Her eyes contained oceans of energy, mesmerizing and frightening in their intensity. Her raven eyes glistened with the secrets of the beyond. The sands of time swirled around her form. Her long black hair undulated with the rhythm of the oceans. She knew well my question.

She said the fate of the earth is linked to the consciousness of its inhabitants. Through their collective consciousness they have the power to harness their energies and determine the fate of the earth vessel and the fate of the inhabitants of the earth. There will be a shift in the earth energies and therefore in the consciousness of the people due to cosmic transformational changes.

As beings of light you have the option to stand in the light and transform your consciousness, to ascend to a higher plane of awareness. Mother Earth has a spirit and a consciousness just as you, you rise and fall together. Those of you who are of the light have the power to keep the earth on its axis. I grant this prayer to say daily and thrice say you on the full of each moon.

The Mayan Prayer

Energy Medicine for 2012

In the name of the Light and Love of the Divine Creator and the Sacred Intelligence and Energy of the Universe, we stand united, all beings of Light in the rightful use of Wisdom and Energy. We surround the earth with the light of our souls and the light of our source. Together we encircle this sacred vessel and all those within and without with the love, the power and the mercy of our Divine Source. We honor the Spirit that runs through all things and hold sacred the love of God. We offer the boundless reservoir of love within our hearts in honor of all of existence and the sacred energy of our creator.

We acknowledge we are of the earth and of the heavens and the infinite light of the seed of the Creator. We acknowledge and hold sacred that all that exists has consciousness and pledge to honor this consciousness from this time forth each according to their abilities.

We are beings of light and a peaceful yet mighty force for the light. We hold this sacred circle together so that no force from above or below, within or without can break our collective will. We stand united to protect the earth and all that inhabit it through the cosmic transitions that may lie ahead. We are one with each other and with our creator. We are humble but mighty spirits of the light acting in the highest interest of those above and below.

Amen And so it is...

Blessings, please share this prayer .